Lent - a Time of Renewal

Pope Benedict has reminded us that Jesus 'has left us the duty to live in this world according with his way of living. He has entrusted his talents, his house, to us.' Therefore we have a responsibility before Christ for the world.

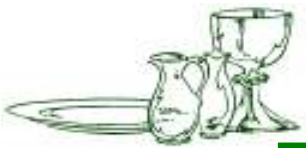

This tells us why we are engaged on a road of continual conversion. Each day we need to reflect on how well we are fulfilling this duty, how well we are acting according to the Lord's way of living and using all that he has given us for each other and our world. There is, for us, a daily conversion, which starts with a heart that is sorrowful for all that is wrong. Then we act upon that sense of contrition, within the Church.

This conversion involves not only a turning to Christ, but also a turning away from those things that keep us from him and his way. When we strive to let go of our un-Christ like habits and thoughts we face a painful struggle. We will not let go easily!

Let us pray

Lord, Bless all those burdened by a sense of failure, yet not free to talk about it. Touch them with reassurance that their honesty will be met by forgiveness. Help them to step out on a path of continuous conversion for on that path lies true peace and the fullness of life.

Amen
